ARE YOU A GIFTER?

It's that time of year when the holiday season is truly knocking at our doors and our pocketbooks. Maybe you have a big family, maybe you have a million friends, maybe you have a special someone in your life, or maybe your a new mom. No matter what season of life you're in, the holidays get expensive. If you're the ultimate champion of gift-giving, deal-busting, and extreme organization, it's possible you started gearing up for the holiday season last year already. I may be a pretty darn good gifter, I may love a good deal, and I may be a bit of a planner, but even I am not that diligent. I venture to say most of you are like me: just looking to keep your holiday cheer as you watch your paychecks vanish into Secret Santa's and potluck parties. Gift giving can and should be fun and rewarding. Let me help you keep your spirits high and your pockets full with a few ideas on what to gift your fellow offroad enthusiast this holiday season. Over the next month just try to remember to have fun!

TIP OF THE DAY

Money Saving Holiday Tips

1. Set a Budget and Stick to it
2. Homemade Gifts--everyone has a hidden talent! Be it baking, knitting, drawing, or what have you.
3. Potluck Christmas Dinner-It shouldn't have to be up to just one person to plan and prepare an entire meal for 20 people. The host can provide the main course and everyone else brings a side dish, an appetizer, dessert, or wine.

Portable Toilet & Tank Advisory

Priority Portable Toilets is extending a courtesy reminder; 'tis the season for antifreeze.

Portable toilets, whether the stand-up style found sporadically through the campground or the RV/camper tanks, are at risk of freezing when exposed to temperatures below 32 degrees Fahrenheit.

RC has seen quite a few of those mornings. Use the below technique before the weather turns too cold as once a toilet freezes up, you will not be able to get the chemicals into the toilet especially in RV/camper situations. Most importantly, get those portapottys ready so Priority Portable Toilets won't have any issues pumping the septic out.

Pour one cup of the antifreeze into the toilet bowl. Use one cup for every 5 to 6 gallons of water the toilet bowl holds. If it's a flush toilet in the RV flush the toilet so the antifreeze goes into the holding tank and through the pipes.

Pour a half-cup of rock salt into the toilet and flush the crystals down into the tank.
