Selling Your Structure?

NEW THIS SEASON! We've upgraded our database to help members sell their structures when they decide to vacate a campsite. Just let the office know your asking price and it will print on the list of available campsites that we hand out to everyone seeking a site. (No personal information, just a member number so we can help them get in touch with you.)

Though the rules still prohibit the sale of an actual site, Rausch Creek will continue to support everyone's investment in their structures by giving buyers priority in the reservation process.

But now, in addition to posting a flyer at the office and making a post on the forum, you can tell us about any camper, shed or cabin that you hope to sell to another member. This will help get you matched up and facilitate their taking over your site much easier and faster.

6 MORE WEEKS OF WINTER

Today, 2-2-22, welcome to Punxsutawney to celebrate Groundhog Day. the one hundred thirty sixth annual trek of the Punxsutawney groundhog club.

Punxsutawney phil, the seer of seers, the prognosticator of all prognosticators, was gently lifted from his burrow at 7:25 am, and held high to see. His faithful followers had returned with glee!

Placing phil on top of the stump, where in Groundhogese, he directed the president, Jeff Lundy, and the inner circle to his prediction scroll that reads:

Winter has been bleak and dark and bereft of hope. Yet winter is just another step in the cycle of life

As I look out over the faces of the true believers from around the world, I bask in the warmth of your hearts.

I couldn't imagine a better fate, with my shadow I have cast, than a long and lustrous six more weeks of winter.

Valentine's Day is recognized as a time to celebrate love and special relationships. And next Sunday is Valentine's Day!! Have you already planned a special romantic day with your honey? If not, what could be more special and memorable than a romantic day at Rausch Creek Trailriders? Be patient with the timing of your life.

I know you have deadlines, due dates, and to do lists that have not been crossed off yet, but please, trust that everything will get done. And trust that this life was given to you, to not sprint towards the end, but rather, to enjoy the stroll. To enjoy and relish in each and every path.

Please, do not run through your life.

Give yourself time. Time to think. Time to observe. Time to notice the way the snow glistens when the sun shines down on each snowflake. Time to notice how even in the dead of winter, the sun rays can still warm up your skin. Time to see the beauty in everything, even when nature is frozen in time, and even when the trees are being weighed down by December's frost.

Give yourself time. Because while you are busy running along without giving your life a second glance, you will miss the snow beginning to melt. You will miss the grass turning green
